"The enemy of creativity is good sense" - Picasso

A man with short brown hair, wearing a dark blue blazer over a light-colored patterned shirt, stands in the foreground. Behind him is a scenic view of a city skyline at sunset, with the sun low on the horizon reflecting on the water. A curved road and greenery are visible in the mid-ground.

WIND ASSISTED CARGO VESSEL DESIGNS IN CONJUNCTION WITH STEVE KOZLOFF DESIGNS- LINK

"That is horrible!" exclaimed the prince. "It just won't do! But how could the hunters have caught your father when a Vicious beast feared by everyone lives on this island?" enquired the prince.

"The beast is my father," said the cub. "He would scare people away to keep our family safe, but a few days ago many hunters came and tricked him into a trap. My mum hid me away and then went to help my father but she was captured too!" sobbed the cub.

Parames looked sadly at the lion cub and said sympathetically, "I know how you feel. My father has gone away too." My father is King Paduka and I am Prince Parameswara. Look, here is my crown," he said, showing the cub the crown in the knapsack. "I will help you."
